Settimana del Tartufo:

Bottega's one year anniversary couldn't come at a better time. The week of December 7th marks our first full year of business, and its been a glorious one thanks to all of you who've visited and helped to create a great atmosphere of celebration! It's also the season of one of the worlds most exotic and beloved ingredients, the white truffle from Alba, in Italy. So we've created a menu that is both dreamy and surreal, in celebration of Tartufo Bianco, and will be serving both a 5-course tasting menu and ala carte all week long at Bottega. For the menu, click here , and check my facebook for random truffle trivia. Hope to see you then!
